Although the Care Quality Commission registers providers its remit from Government does not include dealing with individual complaints about service providers, the advice from their website is

“How to complain

In the first instance, you should contact the service provider.

All health and social care service providers must have a complaints procedure that you can ask to see. This will tell you how to make a complaint.

If you think a crime has been committed or a provider is delivering services without being registered with us, you should report a concern.

The quarterly meetings provide a forum for discussion of patient management with an educational address from a specialist in fields relevant to treatment and services offered.

Clinical governance is considered by the Medical Advisory Committee.

For the past 20 years, all patients who undergo surgery following a consultation at 108 Harley Street are given a patient questionnaire. We encourage patients to complete each questionnaire and the management review each completed form. The results of these are displayed on the website
